Prof. earns NPS top research award

Menneken Faculty Award for Excellence in Scientific Research

by John Sanders

An assistant professor involved in the development of new methods for characterizing ocean conditions in the littorals has earned the Naval Postgraduate School's top research award for junior faculty.

Electrical and Computer Engineering Prof. James Miller, 36, received the Carl E. and Jessie W. Menneken Faculty Award for Excellence in Scientific Research from Dr. Abraham Sheingold during December's commencement exercises. Sheingold presented Miller with a certificate and a cash prize of $2,000 on behalf of the NPS Foundation, which established the award in 1988 to recognize meritorious research of importance to the Navy and DOD.

Since joining the NPS faculty in 1987, Miller has pursued research in ocean acoustic tomography, underwater acoustic signal processing, acoustic wave propagation and scattering, and antisubmarine warfare. He has played a key role in several important oceanographic field studies, including the use of acoustical tomography to map rapid changes in ocean conditions in littoral regions.

Prof. James Miller

With the end of the U.S.-Soviet superpower conflict, Navy strategy has shifted from a focus on the open ocean, "blue water" environment to the "green water" littoral regions. Acoustical tomography may enable acquisition of ocean temperature and salinity data 50-100 times faster than present techniques allow and significantly advance nowcasting and forecasting efforts. Miller and oceanography Prof. Ching-Sang Chiu demonstrated a prototype monitoring system during a 1992 field experiment in the Barents Sea.

Miller earned his Sc.D. from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology/Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution in 1987. He received a master's degree in electrical engineering from Stanford University and a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering with distinction from Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Winter Storm Preparedness Week for Monterey County, Jan. 10 - 15

The week of January 10-15, has been proclaimed "Winter Storm Preparedness Week" for Monterey County.

Don't be lulled by the sunny days. The Winter Storm Season has arrived here. Sooner or later, the inevitable winter rains will come, and bring with them situations and problems that we have mostly avoided during the six years of drought, but encountered last year during a "normal" winter.

Are you and your family ready for a winter storm? A few simple precautions can help lessen the effects of a storm and protect your family and home.

- Keep first aid and critical medical supplies: prescriptions, insulin, etc. . . on hand.
- Keep a stock of food which requires little or no cooking and no refrigeration.
- Keep a stock of bottled water on hand.
- Keep a portable radio and flashlights in working order.
- Keep your materials like sandbags, plywood, plastic sheeting and lumber handy for emergency waterproofing.

• Keep tools that could be used in the event of an emergency, such as shovels, axes, crowbars and chain saws.

• Keep tree limbs away from overhead electrical service lines. Consult your power company for removal details.

• Keep an amount of cash on hand. If you rely on an ATM to obtain cash, it may not be functional in the event of a power failure.

For further details contact the Monterey County Office of Emergency Services at 755-5010. Be ready! Be "winter storm wise."

Tree trimming on Del Monte

Tree trimming on Del Monte Avenue near NPS will require the closure of the westbound lane from Tues., Jan. 11 until Thurs., Jan. 13.

The trees overhanging the north side of Del Monte from Palo Verde Avenue to the NPS parking lot will be trimmed by a city contractor.

The work will be done each day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.
